FREE EAST TIMOR JAPAN COALITION

June 26, 1991

President of the Republic of Portugal
Mario Soares

Dear Sir:

The Free East Timor Japan Coalition, which has been following the situation in East Timor with regard to human rights for several years, has been inundated with reports of human rights abuses in that territory in the past year. To convey the urgency of the situation to the public in Japan, the Coalition recently published, in Japanese, a report on human rights abuses in the Sept. Dec. 1990 period based on documentation made available to us.

The Japanese government itself, usually loathe to raise human rights issues in its dealings with foreign countries, took the extremely unusual step of specifically referring to the human rights issue in East Timor in high-level talks in Jakarta in March of this year.

In these circumstances, it is difficult to understand why your government signed a common declaration at the May meeting of EEC/ASEAN which stated that the human rights situation in the ASEAN countries had improved, making no mention of the, if anything, worsening human rights situation in East Timor. Given Portugal's moral obligation to its former territory, should not your government have insisted on the inclusion of a clear and forceful statement about the denial and abuse of human rights in East Timor at this time?

Your excellency need hardly be reminded that, under Indonesian occupation, the Maubere people continue to be denied their fundamental right to self-determination. The EEC/ASEAN countries should be informed by Portugal of the situation and urged in the strongest terms to cooperate to right the injustice.

Respectfully yours,

梶岡 秀
